

NEW COMPETITION!

A New Space Competition is on it's way for participants Years 2 - 5 !!! We need a name!

The SSEF is passionate about teaching children of all ages about space; especially from an early age to help develop their imagination as well as numeracy & literacy skills. That's why we have decide to plan an event for an even younger age group than the Galactic Challenge, and are busy working on resources that are appropriate for Years 2-5.

So get your thinking caps on! We invite you to suggest a name for the third competition in the SSEF repertoire: the Galactic Challenge and the UK Space Design Competition are both now well established, and we want an enticing name for that will appeal to 6-10 year olds. The winning name will be announced in one of our future newsletters.

Please email your suggestions to Nichola Dale and don't forget to include your name & school - Email:
n.dale@ssef.org.uk